INVESTIGATION WILL BE MADE

Committee to Look Into Charges
Made by Williams.

PASSES LENNON'S RESOLUTION

House Favours Probe of Allegations
Made by the Former Labor Commissioner—Bill for New Judge Causes Spirited Debate—Senate Committee Favours Increasing Agricultural Schools From Five to Eight.

St. Paul, Feb. 4.—By a vote of 83 to 28 the house adopted Representative John G. Lennon's resolution calling for the appointment of a committee to investigate the charges preferred by W. H. Williams, former labor commissioner, in a report to the legislature. Mr. Williams alleged that the office was being used to subvert the political interests of the administration.

The house in committee of the whole killed Elmer Adams' bill intended to repeal the law establishing the farm for inebriates.

County boards of school trustees are established in a bill introduced in the house by Donald Robertson of Argyle. They are to be elected one in each commissioner district at the primary election. The members of the board shall draw salaries of from $25 to $100, according to the size of the county. They shall elect the county superintendent and they shall perform all other duties relating to schools now performed by the county commissioners.

John Saugstad of Climax introduced a bill providing that boards of trade cannot limit their membership, that the price of a membership shall not exceed $5,000, that no membership application shall be rejected nor any member expelled except for cause. Under a bill by Elmer Adams of Fergus Falls the minimum saloon license is made $1,000. At present it may be $500 in cities below 10,000, and in villages.

Bill for a New Judge Discussed.

The bill for a new judge in the Fifteenth district came up in the house and E. A. Kling of Little Falls urged its passage. He accused the Democratic opponents of the bill of playing politics on account of the charge that the intention was to give a place to C. W. Stanton, who was defeated for re-election last fall.

Elmer Adams pointed out that Minnesota had already thirty-six judges, while Wisconsin, a larger state, has only twenty-two, and he said that the whole state should be redistricted.

Several Republicans said they would vote for the judge if he really were needed, but they wanted a little more time. William Dower of Wadena, who represents one county in the district, said they were opposed to a new judge, as it was not necessary, and if the judges had not been so busy with politics last summer they would have been able to handle the litigation.

Mr. Adams wanted to know when the talk of a new judge started and E. R. Hinds of Hubbard said it started right after election. Action on the bill was postponed.

F. T. White of Elk River introduced a bill in the house proposing a constitutional amendment providing that in the absence of the governor the lieutenant governor shall perform his duties and have all his powers.

Before the senate convened the committee on agriculture met again and agreed to increase the number of agricultural schools from five to eight and locate them at Waseca, Austin, Mapleton, Dodge Center, Windom, Foley, Marshall and Hutchinson.

Number of Schools Increased.

When the news spread that the committee was to bring in a general bill providing the same requirements for the schools in the various towns, other senators wanted to be taken care of and the number of schools was increased with the intention of permitting the final number to be fought out in the house.

The senate has sidetracked the bill of Senator Sundberg for state aid to consolidated rural schools with an agricultural feature added and has adopted the policy of district agricultural schools supported practically wholly by the state. This plan does not meet with the entire approbation of the educational authorities of the state, many of them being of the opinion that agricultural training should be given in more local schools.

There is little hope that much can be accomplished at this session towards founding many of them. The Sundberg bill is drawn so that the limit of territory to be served is not so large but that the pupils cannot drive to the school and home at night and not more than ten each such districts are to be aided each year.

A comprehensive bill providing for the inspection and regulation of all restaurants, bakeries and similar places where food is served or made is that introduced by Senator White of Claremont.

The taxes of the insurance companies have not been raised since 1872, and they pay but 2 per cent on their business in this state. Senator Moon of Waseca introduced a bill in the senate increasing the tax to 4 per cent, making it equal to the amount paid by the railroads.

RIGHT TO ANY INFORMATION

Senator Teller Speaks in Support of Bacon's Resolution.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Senator Teller of Colorado addressed the senate in support of Senator Bacon's resolution declaring that the senate has a right to any information in possession of the executive department and cited various precedents to sustain his contention. He claimed that only in exceptional cases is the president warranted in withholding information and declared that congress had never failed to report such action on the part of the executive when it had been based on considerations of public interest.

The senate remained in executive session during most of the day considering the nomination of Dr. W. D. Crum, colored, to be collector of customs at Charleston, S. C.

Inventor Terribly Injured.

La Salle, Ill., Feb. 4.—George Lezinsky, a New York powder inventor, was terribly injured while making a test in a cement works quarry. Lezinsky lost both eyes and the left arm. His condition is critical. Six other men were hurt by the explosion.

RETURNS EIGHT INDICTMENTS

Grand Jury at Muskogee, Okla.,

TRUE BILL AGAINST HASKELL

Governor of Oklahoma One of the men Charged With Conspiracy to Defraud the Government in Connection With Scheduling of Town Lots. Seven Indictments Round Against Six Other Persons.

Muskogee, Okla., Feb. 4.—As a result of the investigation by the grand jury of the alleged frauds in connection with the scheduling of town lots in this city, eight indictments were returned. The charge against the defendants is conspiracy to defraud the government. The names of those indicted are:

Governor Charles N. Haskell, F. B. Severs, A. Z. English, C. W. Turner, W. T. Hutchings, Jesse W. Hill and Walter R. Eaton.

Attorney Thomas H. Owen of Muskogee, representing Governor Haskell, made arrangements for the governor Friday morning to enter his appearance and give $5,000 bond for appearance at trial.

The writs issued are returnable forthwith.

Governor Haskell is, at Guthrie. There is but one indictment against him charging him with conspiring with Walter R. Eaton and Clarence GOVERNOR CHARLES N. HASKELL OF OKLAHOMA.

W. Turner to defraud the government. There are two indictments against Turner and one each against the others.

Turner was first to give bond in the sum of $10,000. Hutchings and Eaton called and gave bond in the sum of $5,000 each. All will probably be arraigned before Judge Campbell Friday morning.

English is in Los Angeles, Cal.

The report of the grand jury was made to Judge Robert E. Campbell of the United States court. The jury was instructed to report for duty again next Monday morning, which gave rise to the impression that only a partial report had been made in the town lot cases. Later it was learned that the jury is to consider matter other than the town lot frauds next week.

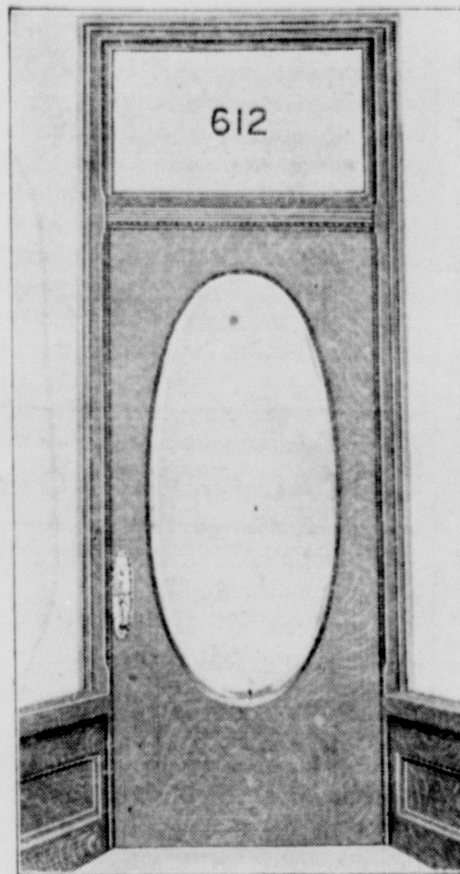

Walter R. Eaton, one of the men indicted, is a brother-in-law of Walter J. Richie of Lima, O. He is the secretary of the Indianapolis Contracting company, of which Governor Haskell is president, and which it is alleged scheduled the names of many "dummies" to secure town lots. Jesse W. Hill, another of the indicted, came here from Texas and became identified with the Muskogee Development company. It is claimed that he disposed of a large number of lots fraudulently scheduled.

Editors to Meet in Seattle.

Kansas City, Feb. 4.—Seattle, Wash., will be the scene of the twenty-fourth annual convention of the National Editorial association July 19, next. This was decided here by a meeting of the executive committee.

FIELD DAY IN THE HOUSE

Large Variety of Subjects Discussed in General Debate.

Washington, Feb. 4.—General debate on the agricultural appropriation bill in the house afforded critics and defenders of the department of agriculture an excellent field day. Mr. Lever of South Carolina led off with an attack on the appointment and work of the referee board of consulting chemists in the department. Mr. Hedlin of Alabama asked on behalf of cotton growers for a governmental monthly report on the consumption of cotton. Mr. Sturgis of West Virginia urged an extension of the forest service. Mr. Humphrey of Washington took an exactly opposite view, while Mr. Mondell of Wyoming declared the bureau of forestry the most autocratic government bureau outside of Russia. Mr. Bartholdt of Missouri urged the issue of bonds for inland waterways improvement and Mr. Crandler of Mississippi complained of the tariff on agricultural implements. Chairman Scot of the agricultural committee closed the debate with explanatory remarks on work done by the department during the past year.

Before the bill was taken up in general debate, the house passed the senate pension bill for federal judges.

ROOSEVELT GIVES OUT A STATEMENT

Opposes Restricting Field of the Secret Service.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Declaring that "if the government is to act with full efficiency against criminals, it must have some force of secret service agents who can act against criminals anywhere" President Roosevelt in a statement made public from the White House, emphatically reiterated his opposition to restricting the field of usefulness of the secret service.

"The position of the administration is," said the president, "that it is against sound public policy to discriminate in favor of criminals by discriminating against the use of the secret service to detect and punish them."

The statement was called forth by "misleading statements appearing in some of the afternoon papers" to the effect that the work of the secret service has not been hampered and that the investigation of cases outside the detection of counterfeiters and the protection of the president has not been circumscribed by restrictive legislation at the last session of congress.

All Had Radical Opinions.

San Francisco, Feb. 4.—Sixteen citizens, for the most part possessed of radical opinions concerning the guilt or innocence of Patrick Calhoun, passed in review before the attorneys in Judge Lawlor's court and none succeeded in qualifying for the eleventh place in the jury that will try the president of the United Railroads upon an indictment charging bribery.

Fire in New York Capital.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 4.—New York's $25,000,000 capitol was slightly damaged and a dozen firemen were over come with gas as a result of a fire which broke out in a storeroom in the basement of the building. In the senate the proceedings were not interrupted. The monetary damage is small.

RACE RIOTS IN PITTSBURG

Three Officers Badly Wounded
by Gang of Negroes.

TWO ARE EXPECTED TO DIE

News of the Affray Suppressed for Fear That It Would Precipitate a General Race War in the Smoky City—Wholesale Arrests of Unemployed Negroes the Cause of the Fight—No Further Attacks Upon Women Reported.

Pittsburg, Feb. 4.—In spite of many threats of armed resistance upon the part of negroes if the police continue their wholesale arrests of members of their race without employment in the Herron Hill district of the city, but one outbreak of any kind has occurred. Following the arrest of 126 negroes and the release of all but forty-one, the police force in the district has been doubled and every patrolman has orders to arrest every suspicious negro.

Of the negroes arrested thirty-nine were fined, most of them going to the workhouse.

Antagonism based on the summary sending of scores of negroes to the workhouse finally culminated just before midnight in a series of race riots in which Detective George Cole was shot in the chest, Detective Robinson stabbed and Policeman Williamson beaten unconscious with his own night stick by gangs of negroes.

This civic condition, with vigilants of the white and the black races, is so close to the outbreak of race war that under orders from the director of public safety, no report was made of the injuries done the three peace officers, two of whom are believed to be dying.

The men were spirited away for medical attention, only their families being notified.

The revelation of the results of these riots, particularly if there is fatal termination, may force bloody clashes.

No further attack upon women or girls has been reported since Tuesday night. Men and women throughout the section involved are carrying revolvers. Local orators are inflaming the negroes to resistance and the feeling is high.

Owing to the excited condition of the negroes, the authorities feared the effect of a political meeting held in Herron Hill district in connection with the pending election, and sent a cordon of fifty policemen to enforce order. Two arrests were made, both parties being negroes.

Sympathy.

Bertie (aged eight)—Did you know, mamma, that Mrs. Smith's little boy in the next street is sick with the scarlet fever? Mother—No, I didn't. I hope, dear, you said you were sorry when you heard this. You know you must always be kind to the sick. Bertie—That's right, mamma. I've been visiting him all the afternoon. —Lippincott's Magazine.

She—What are you laughing at? He—I was at the photographer's today with my mother-in-law, and he told her to look pleasant.

CLAIMS THAT HE WAS SICK

Accused Officer Denies That He Was Intoxicated.

Gibraltar, Feb. 4.—All the evidence in the court martial of Captain Edward F. Qualtrough of the battleship Georgia, on charges preferred by Rear Admiral Wainwright that he was under the influence of intoxicants at a reception given at Tangier by the American minister, Samuel R. Gummore, has been presented. The hearing in the case was held on the battleship Louisiana and a number of witnesses testified that Captain Qualtrough was intoxicated and unfit for duty. The accused officer, who took the stand in his own behalf, made a lengthy statement to the effect that he was sick and suffering greatly from fatigue, and that he had only taken one glass of sherry and nothing afterward. He had smoked a strong cigar.

Surgeon Crandall of the Georgia, one of the two witnesses for the defense, testified that Captain Qualtrough's physical condition was low and that he therefore was very susceptible to the action of liquor and tobacco. The defense introduced as evidence the record of Captain Qualtrough's thirty-eight years' service and two flattering letters of recommendation received by him during the present cruise.

RECEPTION FOR KAISER'S ENVOY

Count von Bernstorff Guest of
New York City.

New York, Feb. 4.—Count Johann Heinrich von Bernstorff, the new ambassador from Germany, is the guest of the city today. This afternoon he was entertained at a reception by the chamber of commerce, at which the leading lights of the city in commerce and the law and other professions were present. Tonight he will be the guest of honor at a banquet at the Manhattan club. In his address at the chamber of commerce Count von Bernstorff said:

"From the time of the birth of the people of the United States as a nation down to the present day there has been unbroken friendship between Germany and the United States. My mission to this country can be summed up in the one wish that this friendship may continue and always deepen."

"The enormous development of wealth and industry, based on the great natural advantages which nature has given to the United States and due to the active, enterprising and courageous spirit of their people, has never been regarded with unfriendly or jealous eyes from our banks of the North and Baltic seas."

"Great and civilized nations consider the prosperity and happiness of other people not as hindering but as helping their own."

Most of the prominent German-Americans of this city and many from other places will assemble at the dinner, which will be given in honor of the diplomat by the New Yorker Staats-Zeitung. Herman Ridder, manager of the Staats-Zeitung, will preside at the dinner.

THE supreme court decides that the state cannot collect interest on delinquent personal property taxes.

AN order has been placed for 50,000 cats to be sent to Japan. This will have a tendency to boost the price of rabbit pie in eastern restaurants.

WHEN coaling a war vessel the American practice is to keep the bands playing to enliven the men during the work. This method might help the lawn mower work.

PRUNES and dried apples have advanced in price to that extent that patrons of boarding houses fear these luxuries will soon disappear from their accustomed place on the table.

IF THE six weeks of winter we have hog lore, is anything like the sample

DEAD ones are supposed to be buried, but the Stillwater Gazette discovers that the rule is not always observed and says "there are a lot of dead ones who haven't been buried but who should be for the good of the community they infest."

IF A bill, which has passed the house, successfully runs the gauntlet of the senate the chicken shooting season in Minnesota will be reduced to fifteen days, the open season being from Sept.
15 to Oct. 1. For the protection of the birds it would be a good thing.

THOMAS TORSON, of St. James, is dead at St. Paul, the result of a fall.
The deceased represented his district in the state senate and was for nineteen years register of deeds of Watonwan county. He was a man of state wide acquaintance and his friends will mourn his untimely death.

A BITTER fight is being waged, at least through the newspaper, over the location of a normal school in the northern part of the state that has not yet been authorized by the legislature.
Bemidji and Cass Lake are in the lime light, and the Pioneer, of the former city, makes some very serious charges and insinuations regarding the matter.

AN EASTERN vaudeville manager, who is looking for headliners that will fill his coffers with gold, has offered Theodore Roosevelt $10,000 a week for a thirty weeks' engagement. It is expected that Teddy will decline the offer, and set some better example in his solution of what ex-presidents should do.

ST. CLOUD is discussing the advisability of adopting the commission plan of city government as opposed to the present mayor and council system of city administration, and it is not improbable that the charter commission will frame an amendment to the charter covering the proposed plan. The idea seems to prevail that the city officials are competent but that they are hampered by a system which is vicious and over which they have no control.

IN '61 the then town of St. Cloud presented Lieut. Col. Stephen Miller with a sword, which he carried through the war with honor, and it was returned to the city on Monday evening at which time Capt. L. W. Collins accompanied by some twenty comrades of the Grand Army appeared before the city council. As the St. Cloud Times says
"the incident was inspiring in the lesson of pathetic loyalty it presents to the present generation—it was pathetic in the fact that not a descendant of Stephen Miller is living to whom the sword could be bequeathed."

THE democratic members of the legislature are opposed to having the labor bureau investigated. The official report of the labor commissioner alleged that the office was being used to subvert the political interests of the Johnson machine and the perpetuation of democracy in Minnesota.
No wonder the democratic members protest when the charge is made that the office costs the state over $30,000 annually and that this money is expended corruptly and used to pay men who are sent out on political errands; that people are drawing salaries who were never appointed, and that the assistant commissioner was absent from the office for fourteen weeks while he was campaigning in the interest of the administration. It would be more to the credit of the democrats if they demanded these charges be disproved by an investigating committee than to endeavor to suppress the investigation.

February 2, 1909
Meeting called to order at 10 o'clock a. m. All members present. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Attorney Allbright and R. J. Hartley appeared and urged the Board to recommend the cancellation of certain old taxes on N. 1 NW 1 sec. 2) Twp 45 Rge 30 for the consideration of the Minnesota tax commission. After considerable discussion it was decided to sign the application and place the question before the Attorney-General as to whether said taxes were outlawed or not.

The final road order in the matter of new road recently surveyed from Deerwood to the shaft in sec. 30 Twp 47 Rge 28 was presented. Attorney Rya and others still objected to the road as surveyed, and the order was not confirmed by the Board. Instead, a motion prevailed instructing the Auditor to notify the Rogers-Brown Ore company to procure release of damages from the property owners in question in accordance with their agreement.

Meeting adjourned till 2 o'clock p. m.

All members present.
Pursuant to notice the petition of Freeman Thorpe to be set off with his lands from school district No. 50 to No. 73, came up for hearing. A motion was made and carried to postpone action till the matter could be thoroughly looked up.

Several residents of Twp 136 Rge 27 appeared to object to the organization of said township, and filed a remonstrance signed by 14 free holders. Inasmuch as the petition had not as yet been presented in proper form, no action was taken.

Application was supported by a petition of 24 names, and opposed by a remonstrance of 61 names from Crow Wing county and one or 51 names from Morrison county. CONTROVERSY AGAIN RAGES

Factions in Miners' Convention Renew Their Fight.

Indianapolis, Feb. 4.—After celebrating with a storm of cheers the re-election of President Thomas L. Lewis, and after the tellers had retired to count the ballots for vice president and secretary-treasurer, the convention of the United Mine Workers of America indulged in an excited revival of the controversy over internal dissension between Lewis' party and the faction led by his opponent for the presidency, John W. Walker, district president of Illinois.

Speaking on an unsigned letter received by some of the leaders, charging that Ohio union officers had "sold out" to operators, G. W. Savage, secretary of the Ohio district, bitterly arraigned "certain parties that, not being in power themselves, would destroy the organization so as to destroy those that are in power." So far as he personally was concerned, he declared that if the authors of the letter were made known to him and persisted in their attack on his character, he "would walk over their corpses or they should walk over his." He offered a reward of $100 for evidence that would identify those responsible for the letter.

The leader of the anti-administration faction, President Walker of Illinois, then took the floor to say that he, too, had been the victim of libelous statements. He said the organization was being exploited for the selfish ends of certain of its leaders.

President Lewis followed Mr. Walker with a counterblast against his enemies. He said the Ohio letter was the last link in a conspiracy to disrupt the organization because he happened to be its president.

State Department Officials Think Buchanan Will Settle Trouble.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Responsible officials of the state department decline to make any comment respecting the possibilities of the future in the matter of Mr. Buchanan's mission, further than to say that they believe he will come to an amicable understanding with Venezuela regarding a satisfactory method for the settlement of the disputed claims. The dispatches from Caracas pointing out the attitude of the two governments in the matter of the arbitration of the issues at stake accurately reflect the situation as it exists and the hope is expressed at the state department that the Venezuelan authorities may sooner or later retire from the position they have assumed. A long dispatch came to the department from Mr. Buchanan, but it was inconclusive as to the progress and required an answer for the commissioner's guidance.

February 2, 1909

Meeting called to order at 10 o'clock a. m. All members present. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Attorney Allbright and R. J. Hartley appeared and urged the Board to recommend the cancellation of certain old taxes on N. 1 NW 1 sec. 24 Twp 45 Rge 30 for the consideration of the Minnesota tax commission. Attorney Rya a d others still objected to the road as surveyed, and the order was not confirmed by the Board. A motion was made and carried to postpone action till the matter could be thoroughly looked up.

Hearing was had on application of Geo. F. Thurston to sell liquor at Ft. Ripley. Application was supported by a petition of 24 names, and opposed by a remonstrance of 61 names from Crow Wing county and one or 51 names from Morrison county. Pursuant to notice, final hearing was had upon petition of Hubert Cossette to be set off with his lands, namely the w. 1/4 section 19 township 44 range 30 from District No. 15 to District No. 30. Upon motion the petition was granted.

County Surveyor presented the necessity of getting a complete set of field notes for the county, and offered a proposition from the surveyor-general's office agreeing to copy a set for $350. Moved and carried that said office be notified to prepare such notes at once to be paid for by the county.

ANTI-JAP BILL IS DEFEATED

California Assembly Rejects the Drew Measure.

AROUSED STRONG OPPOSITION

Although the Bill Had Been Amended at the Request of President Roosevelt and Secretary Root, It Failed to Win Support of a Majority of the House Members—Feared It Might Jeopardize Relations With Japan.

Sacramento, Cal., Feb. 4.—After a debate lasting several hours the assembly by a vote of 48 to 28 rejected the bill drawn by A. M. Drew, barring aliens from ownership of land in California. The bill has been amended at the request of President Roosevelt and Secretary Root so that the clause applying it to Japanese only was eliminated, making the bill apply to all aliens, but the measure aroused such a storm of opposition that long before the debate was closed by Mr. Drew it was apparent that the measure would be defeated.

In substance the objection to it was that it would drive at least a billion dollars of foreign capital out of the state and might jeopardize the present friendly commercial relations with Japan.

The supporters of the bill contended that the state was being overrun by thrifty Japanese, who were gradually gaining an impregnable position as landowners and whose government was trying to dictate to California regarding legislation.

The result of the day's contest is considered a fair test of the relative strength of the two factions in the assembly and as foreshadowing the defeat of all measures that would tend to embarrass the national government in its relations with Japan.

Sensational Speeches Made.

Two sensational speeches were made, one for and one against the measure. Assemblyman Grove Johnson of Sacramento, ex-congressman and author of four bills segregating Japanese in schools and residential districts and preventing aliens being members of corporations, made an impassioned appeal for the enactment of the Drew bill. At the climax of his speech he walked backward from his seat to the lobby rail, and, seizing in his arms a golden haired girl of three, held her aloft and declared that he was "in favor of this as opposed to the Japanese menace to our institutions."

Nathan G. Cole of San Francisco, who was elected at the endorsement of the Union Labor party, opposed the Drew bill on the ground that it was in conflict with the state constitution; that it was inimical to union labor and that it was not favored by the national administration, which he said was dealing with a delicate problem and should be supported by the people of California.

Dramatically confronting Assemblyman Drew, he said:

"If President Roosevelt should throw open the doors of this assembly chamber and laying his hand on your shoulder, should request for reasons of state that you withdraw this bill, you, Mr. Drew, as a patriotic citizen of the United States, would assent without a murmur."

PASSED BY THE ASSEMBLY

Nevada Anti-Japanese Resolution Favorably Acted Upon.

Carson, Nev., Feb. 4.—The assembly of the Nevada legislature passed the anti-Japanese resolution as amended. The amendments eliminated all reference to federal interference, but urged the state of California to pass stringent measures to exclude Japanese. There was but one vote against the measure, that of Assemblyman Church, Republican member from Lincoln county.

It is likely that the resolution will be delivered to the senate today. The assembly resolution No. 2, which asks that a fleet of warships be kept in the Pacific, was passed without discussion or amendment.

GRANTS RESTRAINING ORDER

Court Prevents South Dakota Rate Law From Going Into Effect.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Feb. 4.—Judge John E. Carland in the United States district court granted a restraining order preventing the 2-cent passenger rate law, signed by the governor Wednesday, from going into effect, pending a hearing before him Monday, March 1, for a temporary injunction.

The order was granted at the instance of the various railroad lines in South Dakota. The bill as finally passed by the legislature contained an emergency clause making it effective immediately.

Pierre, S. D., Feb. 4.—While the railway companies were obtaining a restraining order from the federal courts at Sioux Falls to stop the 2-cent rate law, the attorney general went before the state supreme court and got an alternative writ of mandamus, returnable on March 3. The question now to be settled is which court shall take jurisdiction of the matter.

St. Louis Man Slain.

St. Louis, Feb. 4.—Clarence N. Jones, president of the Commonwealth Milling company, was shot and almost instantly killed while alone in his office with Herman Kretschmar, who has been arrested. It is said that Kretschmar admits having shot Jones. Kretschmar called and asked Jones to reinstate him as the company's secretary, but Jones refused, saying Kretschmar's successor had been installed.

Hazel Goes to Prison for Life.

Toledo, O., Feb. 4.—Harvey Hazel, the seventeen-year-old boy found guilty of the murder of his mother, has been sentenced to life imprisonment in the Ohio state penitentiary at Columbus. Hazel was convicted of slaying his mother Jan. 11, 1908, by beating her to death with a hammer.

PROMINENT MAN IS SHOT

Killed by Fellow Townsman and Member of Same Order.

Denver, Feb. 4.—Fred Walton, former grand master of the Odd Fellows for the state of Idaho, was shot twice by John H. Cradlebaugh and died shortly after being removed to the hospital. Both men are from Wallace, Ida., and Cradlebaugh also is a prominent Odd Fellow.

Walton was dying when the hospital was reached, but gasped out:

"That man thought I stole his wife." Cradlebaugh, according to Chief of Police Armstrong, called at police headquarters Tuesday night and told him that Walton had run away from Wallace with his wife.

He did not want to cause a disturbance, but wished to recover his children. Cradlebaugh, who was arrested immediately after the shooting, refused to make any statement.

Charles S. Deneen

Resolute Governor of Illinois, Who Has Aroused an Entire State—Chief Figure in Two Sensational Conventions. Conservative Reformer, a No Man's Man and a Fighter.

By JAMES A. EDGERTON.

THE career of Charles S. Deneen, governor of Illinois, has been one of storm and battle. When he was trying to be a lawyer he tramped the streets of Chicago for weeks seeking to find a job as clerk, copyist, office boy, anything, so that he might finish his legal education and get a foothold. His eight years as state's attorney for Cook county, in which he prosecuted grafters and big criminals, even antedated the parallel career of ex-Governor Joseph W. Folk as district attorney of St. Louis. Deneen's first nomination for the governorship came on the seventy-ninth ballot after the longest and most bitterly contested state convention contest in American history. His second nomination was won in a fiercely fought state primary with a bare majority of 7,000. In the election that followed large numbers of Republicans, including organization leaders, openly fought him, and he won out by only 23,164, although Taft carried the state by 179,122. Even then his troubles were not ended. He was threatened with a contest, and the anti-Deneen Republicans of the house joined with the Democrats and organized that body. Despite all this fierce opposition, he has generally managed to win his

On Monday five ineffectual ballots were had, and the band pounded out "Hold the Fort." Tuesday saw nine ballots, and the band discoursed "In the Sweet By and By." Wednesday saw an attempt on the part of the "federal brigade" to get up a stampedee for Lowden, but the delegates suddenly became stand patters and refused to break loose for any bunch of office holders. The band played "Onward Christian Soldiers." Thursday there were ten ballots, and the slide trombone man let loose with "Please Go Way and Let Me Sleep." This struck a responsive chord in the bosoms of the delegates, and they adjourned. The next day, May 20, saw only one ballot. Two Fridays were too much for the convention. The band was all in and had not enough wind or strength left to play anything. Adjournment was taken for eleven days.

Nominated by Nearly 1,000 Votes

When the convention reassembled on Tuesday, May 31, there was no change and the same cheerful state of inertia greeted the first day of the new month points. He now has four more years as governor and is still fighting.

The quality of Deneen is shown by a chance remark dropped while he was prosecuting crooks, boddlers, bank wreckers and ballot box stuffers in Chicago. It is good enough to frame:

"My friends will not ask me to do what is not right. If they do they are not my friends."

The convention that first nominated Deneen for governor will be remembered in Illinois as one of the big political events in a state of big politics. It met on May 12 and finally adjourned on June 3, there being a recess in the meantime from May 20 to May 31 to allow the delegates to go home and change their collars and, if possible, change their minds. The festival was presided over by Uncle Joe Cannon, who broke all the gavelts that could be procured and wound up by trying to hammer something out with a croquet mallet. There were seven candidates, the three leaders being Deneen, Richard Yates, Jr., the then governor, and Colonel Frank O. Lowden, who was supported by the "federal brigade." There were 1,502 delegates, 752 being necessary to a choice. Seventy-nine ballots were taken in all. The highest ever got by Yates was 507; by Lowden, 631. Yates was generally in the lead, with Deneen second and Lowden third. The others were "among those present." The balloting started on May 13, and it was Friday at that. For the original unlucky day it had Tom Lawson's "Friday, the 13th," looking like the favored of fortune. The dread of the 13-Friday combination may be only a superstition, but it would be hard to convince an Illinois Republican politician of that fact. With him it is not a high browed theory, but a ghastly condition. He knows. Did he not go through the 1904 convention?

Ten Hours of Balloting.

On that fatal Friday, May 13, the delegates balloted for ten solid hours. Nothing doing. The band played "We Won't Go Home Till Morning," and it was nearly that time when they did go home. On Saturday nine ballots were taken without result. The band

On June 2 the candidates all released their delegates, but the delegates refused to be released. The morning of June 3, however, it was apparent that something had happened overnight. Governor Yates took the platform, withdrew his name and asked his friends to vote for Deneen. Three minor candidates followed suit. There was nothing more to it. The Chicago man won by nearly 1,000 votes.

In office Governor Deneen has made enough enemies to down twenty ordinarily men, but the fates—or was it his own grit?—pulled him through. He has been in Springfield scarcely a year before the fight on him started. The first form it took was a legislative investigation of state institutions. His enemies averred that he had entered into a deal with former Governor Yates to keep in the old appointees, and this has never been denied. At any rate, the appointees were kept, and right there the trouble started. The report on the state institutions was scathingly adverse, and as a result the governor undertook their reorganization. There was an overhauling and housecleaning, since which time there has been little complaint.

His Greatest Fight.

The greatest fight made by Governor Deneen was for a state primary law. This he forced through, only to have it declared unconstitutional by the supreme court. He immediately called the legislature in extra session and had a new primary law enacted, and under this his second nomination took place. That contest was even more sensational than the two weeks' convention of four years previous. The opposition candidate for the nomination was the same Richard Yates whose withdrawal had nominated Deneen in 1904. It was charged that a part of the deal at that time was that Deneen should support Yates for United States senator in place of Shelby M. Cullom. If there was any such understanding circumstances were so changed that the governor found it impossible to carry out the agreement and remained neutral in the contest. As a result, Yates charged him with being an iceberg and generally made things so warm that an ordinary iceberg would not only have melted, but boiled in consequence. The fight raged in every county in the state, Deneen speaking one or more times in each and Yates following. Even the Democrats were dragged into the melee, and in Chicago it was said both machines worked together for the governor's downfall. Deneen won and proved that even if he were an iceberg he could grind up the most formidable obstacles that got in his path.

One of the most important measures that the governor has carried through is a $20,000,000 ship canal from Lake Michigan to the Mississippi river. This enterprise is of moment not only to Chicago and Illinois, but to the commerce of the entire country. The people have approved the project, and it now only remains to carry out the details. There is an immense patronage connected with the affair, and the prospect that the governor might have the giving out of the plums has caused additional teeth gnashing among the politicians. There has already been so much of this gnashing going on during the last four years that with another term of Deneen there is danger that most of the political teeth in Illinois will be worn out.

It requires a big man to set an entire state by the ears, and that is what Charles Samuel Deneen has done for the third state in the Union. It is no longer a question of Republicans and Democrats in Illinois, but of Deneen and anti-Deneen. The senatorial deadlock is a direct result of the feud. It is confidently stated that Deneen himself might have been senator, but that he would not permit the use of his name. That in itself is no small tribute to the strength of the man in view of the fact that the state machine of his party and the federal influence are both against him.

A Soldier in Early Life.

It is always well to have a direct view of a man, and since I have never met Governor Deneen myself I took the privilege of interviewing Judge Jesse Holdom of Chicago concerning him. Judge Holdom, who has just been elected president of the Union League club of Chicago, has known the governor intimately for years. It is to him that I am indebted for many of the details of Deneen's early life and for a first hand impression. Governor Deneen was born in southern Illinois—"Egypt"—in 1863. His great-grandfather was speaker of the Illinois house in territorial days, and his father was a professor in McKendree college. The elder Deneen was also adjutant of an Illinois regiment in the civil war, and the future governor spent some of his first years at the front.

Charles S. Deneen graduated from McKendree college in 1882 and from the law department of the same institution in 1885. He then taught school and went to Chicago, where he had more than his share of hard luck in getting a start. He was finally compelled to teach night school and to hang about the criminal courts for the purpose of being assigned to the defense of poor prisoners who could not hire a lawyer of their own. There was little money in this sort of practice, but valuable experience. To be near an old friend, a Methodist minister at Englewood, young Deneen moved to that suburb, and his prospects brightened. He took to politics as the proverbial duck does to water, got in with the Lorimer machine, was made a member of the city committee, went to the legislature for one term and declined a renomination, thrived in his practice and in 1895 was made attorney of the drainage board. It was in 1896 that Mr. Deneen was first elected to the state's attorneyship. His predecessor in office was a Democrat who had been charged with shielding big criminals. The city was naturally Democratic, and prospects for the young candidate were not bright. Nevertheless he resigned his drainage board attorneyship against the advice of his associates and went in to win. He did win, too, by a good majority, and his administration of the office was admittedly the most efficient in the city's history. Among the murder charges that he prosecuted were the famous Luetzart case. He also sent to prison a number of crooked election judges and several defaulting bankers. So strongly did he arouse popular favor in his behalf that in 1900 he ran 10,000 ahead of McKinley in Chicago.

Does Not Bow Down to Bosses.

Before entering the race for governor Deneen broke with the Lorimer machine. A fierce fight followed, but he won a majority of the delegates from Cook county. His nomination and election to the governorship marked the first time that the Republican party of Illinois had chosen a Chicago man for that important office. It is true that there were two Chicago governors before him, but one had succeeded from the lieutenant governorship when Governor Oglesby had resigned to go to the senate, and the other, Altgeld, had been elected by the Democrats. Governor Deneen married Miss Bina Day Maloney, the daughter of a Carroll county farmer. They have four children, one of whom was born in the executive mansion.

Despite the bitter enmity to Governor Deneen on the part of so many in his own party and state, it is generally admitted that he is honest. It is this that gives him his strength. The American people will forgive almost any sin in a public man so long as it feels that he is sincere. So long as Deneen uses political methods is not denied by his best friends. But he is no man's man, will not bow down to bosses, is a reformer in a conservative way, and, above all else, he fights. That is shown by his square jaw, his flashing eye and every line of his mobile but determined face.

DOCTORS MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or over-busy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician ignorant of the cause of suffering keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better. The cause of the wrong treatment, but probably worse. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby curing all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," run-down, debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest, earthly boon, being invigorating, and inducing refreshing sleep and relieving mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, loosen the bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

ANTI-JAP BILL IS DEFEATED

California Assembly Rejects the Drew Measure.

AROUSED STRONG OPPOSITION

Although the Bill Had Been Amended at the Request of President Roosevelt and Secretary Root, It Failed to Win Support of a Majority of the House Members—Feared It Might Jeopardize Relations With Japan.

Sacramento, Cal., Feb. 4.—After a debate lasting several hours the assembly by a vote of 48 to 28 rejected the bill drawn by A. M. Drew, barring aliens from ownership of land in California. The bill has been amended at the request of President Roosevelt and Secretary Root so that the clause applying it to Japanese only was eliminated, making the bill apply to all aliens, but the measure aroused such a storm of opposition that long before the debate was closed by Mr. Drew it was apparent that the measure would be defeated.

In substance the objection to it was that it would drive at least a billion dollars of foreign capital out of the state and might jeopardize the present friendly commercial relations with Japan.

The supporters of the bill contended that the state was being overrun by thrifty Japanese, who were gradually gaining an impregnable position as landowners and whose government was trying to dictate to California regarding legislation.

Sensational Speeches Made.

Two sensational speeches were made, one for and one against the measure. Assemblyman Grove Johnson of Sacramento, ex-congressman and author of four bills segregating Japanese in schools and residential districts and preventing aliens being members of corporations, made an impassioned appeal for the enactment of the Drew bill. At the climax of his speech he walked backward from his seat to the lobby rail, and, seizing in his arms a golden haired girl of three, held her aloft and declared that he was "in favor of this as opposed to the Japanese menace to our institutions."

Nathan G. Cole of San Francisco, who was elected at the endorsement of the Union Labor party, opposed the Drew bill on the ground that it was in conflict with the state constitution; that it was inimical to union labor and that it was not favored by the national administration, which he said was dealing with a delicate problem and should be supported by the people of California.

Dramatically confronting Assemblyman Drew, he said:

"If President Roosevelt should throw open the doors of this assembly chamber and laying his hand on your shoulder, should request for reasons of state that you withdraw this bill, you, Mr. Drew, as a patriotic citizen of the United States, would assent without a murmur."

It is likely that the resolution will be delivered to the senate today.

"My friends will not ask me to do what is not right. If they do they are not my friends."

The convention that first nominated Deneen for governor will be remembered in Illinois as one of the big political events in a state of big politics. It met on May 12 and finally adjourned on June 3, there being a recess in the meantime from May 20 to May 31 to allow the delegates to go home and change their collars and, if possible, change their minds. The festival was presided over by Uncle Joe Cannon, who broke all the gavelts that could be procured and wound up by trying to hammer something out with a croquet mallet. There were seven candidates, the three leaders being Deneen, Richard Yates, Jr., the then governor, and Colonel Frank O. Lowden, who was supported by the "federal brigade." There were 1,502 delegates, 752 being necessary to a choice. Seventy-nine ballots were taken in all. The highest ever got by Yates was 507; by Lowden, 631. Yates was generally in the lead, with Deneen second and Lowden third. The others were "among those present." The balloting started on May 13, and it was Friday at that. For the original unlucky day it had Tom Lawson's "Friday, the 13th," looking like the favored of fortune. The dread of the 13-Friday combination may be only a superstition, but it would be hard to convince an Illinois Republican politician of that fact. With him it is not a high browed theory, but a ghastly condition. He knows. Did he not go through the 1904 convention?

Ten Hours of Balloting.

On that fatal Friday, May 13, the delegates balloted for ten solid hours. Nothing doing. The band played "We Won't Go Home Till Morning," and it was nearly that time when they did go home. On Saturday nine ballots were taken without result. The band

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 3.—Freddie Welsh had a shade the better of George Memsic in a ten-round battle here in which no decision was announced.

DOCTORS MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or over-busy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better by reason of the wrong treatment, but probably worse. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured." Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," run-down, debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.
